Look Overhead

Construction sites are constantly changing places full of diverse equipment and potential hazards. Overhead power lines, poles and electrical wires are common on a job site. Some are hidden by trees, existing buildings, crane, booms, etc. Stay clear!

Survey the construction site each day to find overhead power lines, poles, dropped lines and electrical wires. Look for hidden wires. In a case of a wire, ensure that the energy has been turned off or that the area has been protected prior to beginning work or raising the boom on any mechanical equipment.
